

Austrian Football Coaches Convention 2019

Dear coach,

This is an official invitation for the Austrian Football Coaches Convention on January 27th 2019 in Vienna. This is already the 4th edition of this coaching convention supported by the Austrian American Football Federation. With over 150 participants each year, the AFCC has become a must attend event for all coaches in and around Austria.

For the first time, we have decided to open this convention officially to teams that are not members of the AFBÖ. This is a push to bring the football community closer together and provide an opportunity to listen to some of the best coaches in Europe.

For the upcoming convention we offer great speakers like Dave Likins(Braunschweig Lions), Lee Rowland(Tyrol Raiders), Geoff Buffum(Calanda Broncos), Martin Kocian(Graz Giants) and many more. The convention is organized in four separate rooms: Offense Box, Offense Backfield, Defense Box, Defense Backfield. This way, all coaches attending the convention can pick and choose what topics they would like to listen to.

According to the preliminary schedule, the event starts at 9:00 in the morning and ends at 17:30. So a full day of football is waiting for you. Including networking with other teams and coaches during the breaks. The final schedule will be announced in the upcoming weeks.

The cost for Non-AFBÖ members will be 60 Euro per person. This includes the convention fee, lunch and coffee during breaks.

The convention will be held at the Technical University of Vienna in the heart of the city.
Address: Karlsplatz 13, A-1040 Vienna

To register for the AFCC 2019, please fill out the attached .xls spreadsheet and send it to: georg.zivko@football.at

In a best case scenario, you fill out only one form for all coaches who are registering from your club and send the collected data in one file.

The fee of 60 Euro will be collected in cash at the convention.

The registration will be closed on December 21st 2018.

If you have any questions, feel free to contact office@maxcoaching.at

We hope to see you at the Austrian Football Coaches Convention in January - You will not regret it!

Best regards

Georg Zivko and Max Sommer
